Don't You Know

that you can secure almost immediate relief from indigestion, and that uncomfortable fullness after meals, by simply taking a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator?
Some people think that because it is called Liver Regulator it has nothing to do with indigestion and the like. It is the inaction of the liver that causes indigestion, and that fullness; also Constipation, and those Bilious Headaches. Millions have been made to understand this and have been cured from these troubles by Simmons Liver Regulator—a medicine unfailing and purely vegetable.

From Rev. M. B. Wharton, Baltimore, Md.
"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony to the great virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator. I have had experience with it, as occasion demanded, for many years, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times. No good medicine deserves universal commendation."

UNDER the provisions of the Austrian poor law, at sixty years of age a man may claim from his native town or commune a pension equal to one-third of the daily wages which he had received during his working years. The amount varies from two to six florins a month. In Vienna alone there are 16,000 persons who receive these pensions from the city.

NOSE save the ignorant and vicious make use of such terms as "60 cent dollar," "a dollar that is a dollar," etc.
No one ever saw a dollar in this country that was not a 100-cent dollar; no one ever will until the unit of account is changed. A dollar in the United States is full legal tender for 100 cents—nothing more nor nothing less, within the full meaning of the law. There is a paper dollar, a silver dollar and a gold dollar, each of which is a legal tender in ordinary business transactions for 100 cents.

A Practical Man.

Of all the practical men of whom America is justly proud no one holds a higher place than the late Cyrus W.
Field. His son shows that he has inherited the shrewd common sense of the man who laid the Atlantic cable.
He writes:

8 East 56th St., New York, May 8, 1883.

Several times this winter I have suffered from severe colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, and in every instance I have been quickly relieved by applying one across my chest and one on my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment and also found it most successful. I feel that I can recommend them most highly to any one who may see fit to try them.

CYRUS W. FIELD, Jr.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the best medicine known.

The electric power plant which is located at the gorge near Winoski, Vt., is almost ready to be put into active operation. Its principal use will be to supply power for Burlington's electric street car line.

The municipal authorities of Baltimore, Md., have ordered that a tax of two dollars be levied on each telegraph, electric light and telephone pole in the city. It is expected that the city treasury will receive about twelve thousand dollars a year from this tax.

Why suffer with dyspepsia, biliousness or any disease of the liver when you can be cured by Simmons Liver Regulator?

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation.
It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

A NEW YORK BEGGAR.

His Shrewdness and Persistence Earns Him an Easy Quarter.

The unfortunate and much-maligned tramp who is met every evening in the City Hall park, asking a penny of his victims as they file through, is not wanting in a very perceptible dash of humor now and then. A rather good-looking man passed him a night or two ago in a tremendous hurry, but was halted with the usual salutation.

"I haven't a cent to-night, my good fellow," he said. "I am absolutely dead broke."

"Bad as all that? Haven't you got a penny?" pleaded the tramp, putting on his most hungry look.

"No, not a red; I tell you I'm dead, flat broke."

"Now, look here, pardner," replied the beggar, hovering in the man's shadow as he dashed on toward the bridge. "are you serious about bein' broke? Lots and lots of people say that just to keep from giving a poor devil anything, and at the same time to spare his feelings. You—"

"Confound it, man, don't you know when to turn loose? If I had a million I wouldn't give you a cent, you are so persistent."

"My friend," said the tramp, "I wouldn't accept a cent from you now.
You've hurt my feelings unnecessarily.
I only wanted to do you a good turn.
If you had said seriously you were broke I was going to offer you a penny of my scanty store. I ain't got any too much to speak of, but I couldn't bear to see a well-dressed man like you going around without a cent in his pocket. Just to show you there's no hard feelings, let me lend you a dollar till to-morrow night."

"You've got a dollar and begging for more? That's your game, eh? You ought to be locked up. I've a mind to call a policeman."

"Don't! They all know me, and you'd be wasting your time. Besides, if I have got a dollar and am begging for more, you mustn't forget that I offered to lend it to you. It's all I've got in this world, and I was willing to trust it to you, an utter stranger. We beggars must keep always a little ahead, else we would starve to death, we meet so many gentlemen like you—all dead broke. Begging's my trade. I'm ashamed of it, I admit, but how many men can you count on your fingers who are ashamed of their own trade? Can I lend you this dollar?"

"Of course not. Here's a quarter instead. I give it to you not because you deserve it, but because you've been clever enough to take me in. My opinion is you are a pretty shrewd rascal. Why don't you turn burglar? What makes you a beggar?"

"Circumstances, surroundings and opportunities. They are the three things that make and mar men. By begging I harm nobody but myself.
You and your rich associates live on the interest of what is earned or stolen. I and my pals live on the great national surplus. Thanks for the quarter. I shall put it where it will do the most good."—N. Y. Tribune.

WIVES OF GREAT MEN.

FIELDING, the novelist, married a maid-servant.

SIR THOMAS MORE's wife scolded him on the eve of his execution.

HAZLITT's wife cared nothing for his abilities, and kept him in hot water by her temper.

MILTON had trouble with each of his wives, the fault being perhaps as much his own as theirs.

MOLIERE, at the age of forty, married an actress aged seventeen, who soon ran away from him.

COLERIDGE left his wife and children without apology or farewell and never would see them again.

NAPOLEON often swore at Josephine, and when she cried told her to hush.
"It makes your nose red."

CATHERINE II., of Russia, had her husband assassinated, and from his death to her own ruled alone.

SHELLEY married an innkeeper's daughter, who proved uncongenial.
He left her and she committed suicide.

BOSWELL's "Uxoriana" is a collection of his wife's sayings to him, which does no little credit to her abilities as a scold.

CERVANTES drew a picture of his own wife in the "Mistress Housekeeper for the Devil," whom Sancho Panza abused so bitterly.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT was accustomed to beat his wives with the flat of his sword whenever they "talked back" at him.

BEN JOHNSON's wife went to the inn after him if he staid too long and brought him home, tongue-lashing him all the way.

NEWS BY WIRE.

Among the confirmations yesterday were the following for Arizona: U. S. district attorney, E. E. Ellingwood; U. S. marshal, W. K. Meade.

Over 60,000 of the 100,000 coal miners of Wales, on a strike for a 20 per cent advance in wages, have returned to work, breaking the strike, thus greatly discouraging the remaining 300,000 strikers in England.

The officials of the Southern Pacific company are at work on a new time card which will go into effect next week, probably Wednesday, by which eight trains will be eliminated from the service on the western division.

A special from Beaufort, S. C., says: Over 390 dead bodies have been found on the islands about Beaufort and Port Royal, and over $2,000,000 worth of property has been wrecked near the same points, both the direct result of the severe storms which swept along the Atlantic coast Sunday night.

Secretary Carlisle reports that the silver purchases in the month of August amount to 3,898,022 fine ounces, costing $2,889,532. The total purchased under the Sherman act was 163,042,664 fine ounces, costing $151-804,570. The silver bullion now on hand in the mints amounts to 134-625,492 fine ounces, costing $122,302-756. The coining value in silver dollars of the bullion now on hand is $184,061,242.

Vance, of North Carolina, spoke yesterday against repeal. He said if coinage was ever stopped here silver would come to live throughout the commercial nations of the earth.
Repeal without a substitute meant the end of silver money for this generation unless a revolution of the people should restore it. Let no man doubt that the proposed repeal was the result of a conspiracy among the money holders of the world.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young another vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her offspring and all says with the best results. For sale by druggists.

THE "KICKER" KORNER

BY GOSH.

[From Washington.

D. C., Aug. 27, '93.

I saw the president last night. He received me graciously and enquired after the KICKER with a degree of warmth which was not natural. I told him of our plans, but he said he did not care to go into partnership with any western enterprises during the silver discussion. The following interview took place which will be published exclusively in the KICKER:

Reporter—"Mr. Cleveland, did you have a cancer cut out?"

Cleve—"I refuse to be interviewed."

Reporter—"Is it true that you are a gold bug?"

Cleve—"I am a Democrat."

Reporter—"Do you wear ruffles on your night gown?"

Cleve—"Clothes do not make the man."

Reporter—"Is Arizona to have a deep water harbor on the Colorado?"

Cleve—"Arizona is a silver state I believe."

Reporter—"Is the judge of the first judicial district picked out?"

Cleve—"You have a hard class of lawyers in Arizona."

Reporter—"Don't you want to take some stock in the KICKER?"

Cleve—"Here's five dollars young man; send me a few copies containing this interview."

I left the presence of his excellency feeling that our chances for statehood are about 16 to 1 in the negative, but that the KICKER had been immortalized.

"For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced.
At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."
